

RE: GN Docket No.12-91

Impediments to Amateur Radio Emergency Communications

Question 2.a.:

Private land use restrictions that prohibit antennas, and/or radio transmissions of any sort, prevent Amateur Radio operators from establishing assured inter-station connectivity in any time of need.

The FCC could promulgate rules that specifically prohibit private land use restrictions that impede the construction, deployment and use of adequate antenna systems. The prohibition should include the statement that "adequate antenna system" be defined only by the involved Amateur Radio operator.
